A desire to continue athletic relations with Goddard in three major branches of scholastic sports was indicated in a letter received at the seminary this morning from Phillips Exeter academy. The Exeter athletic council desires to compete with Goddard in football, basketball and baseball, and while the football eleven on the hilltop was disbanded for the season, it is expected that two basketball games with Exeter during the winter will be followed by scheduled baseball games in the spring. Coaches Horne and Early are lining up the candidates for basketball, but until the gymnasium annex is completed, the team will not practice regularly. Alterations at the gym. are going forward to completion and within a fortnight the hall will be ready for occupancy.

An Orange county farmer arrived in town to-day in time to see tonsorial prices take the wind and fly to the high reaches promised by the hose barbers in a statement issued to the public 10 days ago. The farmer's appearance in an up-town shop and the inevitable conversation that ensues between the barber and his patient disclosed a new slant on the price schedule, for the hirsute figure who clambered into the chair and called for a shave explained that he was turning himself over to a barber for the first time in years. He went on to say that he had always sympathized with barbers who were compelled to snip away at upper trellises for 25 cents the head and for that reason he had relied upon his wife to do his shearing around the house. However, when he read of the price advance, he concluded that at last the cost of haircutting had soared to a point where he would not be cheating anyone by turning himself over to a regular barber. The tonsorialist harvested a considerable crop of the farmer's hair, received a 50-cent piece for his trouble, and the customer left the shop, after assuring his benefactor that he would be back around next haircutting time.

Later in the evening a purse of money was given Mr. Allaire, the presentation being made by William Rabitaille.

WILLIAMSTOWN

O. E. S. District Meeting Was a Great Success.

The district meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star held with Charity chapter at Williamstown Friday afternoon and evening was a success in every way. Nature vied with the committee in charge and gave them a perfect November day and evening. The afternoon session was in charge of the district deputy grand matron, Mrs. Goldie Davis of Northfield and was very instructive. The opening ceremonies were given by Charity chapter in a very creditable manner. Mrs. Olive E. Pirie, lady matron of Charity chapter, in her address of welcome made the grand officers and visitors feel more than welcome. The response was given by Past Grand Matron Lydia Dunham of Ruth chapter of Barre. This closed the afternoon session, and about 150 sisters and brothers sat down to a bountiful banquet served by the Red Cross society in the parlors of the Congregational church. It was delightful and much credit is due the president, Mrs. A. A. Cross. The evening session opened at 8:15, Robert Morris chapter exemplifying the work on two candidates in a very creditable manner. The flag service and address was given by Beniah chapter. Nothing but praise was heard from all present in the manner in which this work was put on. The work was reviewed by Grand Lecturer Abbie S. Clark. Associate Grand Matron Mrs. Anna E. Evans, in her pleasing manner, spoke very feelingly of the good work of the district and the cordiality shown her in district and the general grand chapters. The closing ceremonies by Crescent chapter brought the district meeting to an end. Nothing but praise was heard and district No. 4, O. E. S., extends its heartfelt thanks to the worthy matron, worthy patrons, officers and members of Charity chapter for the cordiality shown them.

Stable Sergeant Walter J. Chynoweth from Camptons was home on a brief visit over Sunday to his father, Kimball Chynoweth.

At 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon a simple wedding took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Riddell of Williamstown when their youngest daughter, Jessie Cummings Riddell, was married to William Auld of Glen Spey, N. Y. The couple were unattended and only members of the family were present. Rev. John Irons was the officiating clergyman. Mr. and Mrs. Auld left on the midnight train for Barre on their wedding trip, after which they will be at home at Glen Spey, N. Y.

Well, it is a nice looking country over here so far. We don't get the war news as much as you do, so don't believe all the paper says. I wonder if The Barre Times will get over here. If you have stopped it, all right for a while, for I don't know my winter quarters yet. We had good luck all the way; run into a storm for 24 hours and it was some rough. I was only sick one day and not very bad at that. Well, good luck to you all.

A Good Supply of Good Rubbers

for all members of the family at present, but those who read the papers will note that every Rubber factory in the United States has agreed to turn over their entire output of Four-Buckle Arctics to the government for our soldier boys.

Read the following, which appears in the "Boston Post":

Entire Output of Arctics for Army.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Every manufacturer of rubber overshoes in the country met to-day with an auxiliary committee of the council of national defense and agreed to turn over to the government for the army the entire output of four-buckle "arctics" from now until Jan. 5. This will mean a total of about 300,000 pairs. Orders for rubber hip boots had been placed previously.

We advise our friends to secure their Rubbers and Arctics at the earliest possible moment. When the supply on hand is exhausted, no more can be secured this season, so all dealers advise us. We have the B. F. Goodrich makes in "Hipress" for heavy wear and "Straight Line" for dress wear. Also "Ball Band" and "Victors."
